Air Ticketing & Services

- All fares are subject to change to seats availability.
- You should ensure that you travel with your booking confirmations, e-tickets and any other travel documentation at all times.
- Reservation request must be sent in writing by fax or e-mail on Company official publications.
- If you wish to cancel your booking and attempt to claim a refund, please telephone/ email us in the first instance, so we can advise you if the conditions of your travel arrangements permit any refund. If you wish to proceed with the cancellation, you must notify us in writing. If you do not advise us of your intention to cancel a booking before the scheduled departure time, or do not check-in, this will be recorded by the airline as a 'no show' and is likely to result in the forfeit of all monies paid.
- If you wish to change your booking, please telephone/email us in the first instance, so we can advise you if the conditions of your ticket permit any changes. If a change is permitted, we may ask you to confirm in writing that you wish to change the booking. Changes of any kind will also be subject to Flight's usual administration fees.
- Where a refund is permitted, this may take some time, to be authorized by the airline.
- Airlines reserve the right to make time changes, or in rare cases, to cancel flights, for operational reasons.
- It is your responsibility to advise us if you do not receive your tickets/ e-tickets.

Air Ticketing & Services

- It is your responsibility to ensure that you understand and comply with all the passport, visa and health requirements of all the countries involved in your itinerary (including those that you transit).
- It is your responsibility to ensure that you are in possession of a valid passport for your journey. Your passport must also be legible and intact.
- Tickets returned to us after their issue are classed as expired and must be submitted to the airline for a refund to be considered; a refund is not guaranteed in these cases. Most airlines will not make a refund on partially used tickets.
- We apply a service charge for certain services we provide. These charges are non-refundable. These are in addition to any fees charged by the supplier.
- If you lose your paper tickets, you must notify us as soon as possible.
- It must be emphasised that the vast majority of airline tickets are non-transferable, and as such name changes are not normally permitted. It is therefore essential that you enter passengers' names as per passport at the time of booking.
- Note that where transfers are necessary between different airports/ terminals, any charges for these are at your own expense.
- Please note that some itineraries may require change/s of aircraft en route. Some flights which are classified as 'direct' may still have stops en route. This information will be shown during the booking process.
- If you require special assistance (for example due to disability, or if you are of reduced mobility), you should notify us at the time of booking.
- We do not guarantee any requests for special assistance, but will pass these to the travel supplier.
- If you require specific seats, you are advised to check in early. Flight Connection has no control over seat allocations.
- In relation to airline frequent flyer schemes, we are happy to insert your card number in the booking. Please bear in mind that not all fare types permit the accrual of frequent flyer miles; please check with the relevant airline before confirming your booking. You are advised to keep boarding card stubs in case of subsequent query.

Hotel Reservation Policies Complaints & Conduct

- Reservation request must be sent in writing by fax or e-mail on Company official publications.
- Accommodation order must be sent informal and official publication Company with guest to complete the checking in procedures.
